

ENDORSE TICKET
BY RESOLUTION

The Republican Convention Nominates Citizens' Ticket Without a Dissenting Vote.

A LEAGUE VICTORY

As Matters Are, Republicans Endorse Good Government and More Business-Like Methods.

Harmony prevailed at the republican city convention this afternoon and the league candidates were endorsed without a dissenting voice. The meeting was a complete victory for the league movement and showed that the sentiment of the party was in favor of a good government.

Met at Two
The convention was called to order at two o'clock by M. O. Mout, chairman of the city committee, who made a short speech in which he stated, "That the republican party has always stood for good government and honesty, and is the party always in the movement towards right and reform. At the present time the party has come to the rescue of the city and stands for honest and good government." The call for the convention and the list of city officers for which candidates were to be nominated was then read by Mr. Mout.

Mout Chairman
On motion of S. B. Hedges, M. O. Mout was elected temporary chairman and on motion of Edward Peterson, F. A. Capelle was elected temporary secretary. A committee on credentials, consisting of Fred Van de Water, F. F. Pierson and Charles Fish, was appointed by the chair, and reported that the different wards were entitled to representation as follows: First ward 8, Second ward 6, Third ward 10, Fourth ward 7 and 5 Ward 3.

On motion of George F. Kimball the temporary organization was made permanent and the chairman of the ward committee was empowered to cast the full vote of the delegation.

The following resolution was introduced by H. L. McNamara and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, by the delegates to the republican city convention duly chosen at caucuses and in convention assembled, that the nomination of A. O. Wilson for mayor, A. E. Bauger for clerk, Martin Dunn for sealer of weights and measures, S. C. Burnham for school commissioner at large and C. W. Reeder for justice of the peace, by the Citizens' ticket be, and each of them is hereby endorsed for said respective offices, and that no nominations be made for said offices by this convention.

F. S. Sheldon then presented a resolution which was also adopted. The resolution was in regard to following the charter in city government and was

Resolved, that it is the sense of this convention, that the mayor and common council and the board of education of this city, should in every particular be governed by the provisions of the charter under which the city is organized; and we demand that in all matters the requirements of the charter be strictly observed.

S. B. Hedges then presented the following motion which was adopted: Resolved, that strict economy in the administration of our city affairs is especially desired, and we demand of all city officials that business principles be observed, and a better system of bookkeeping and accounting adopted.

Moved, that M. O. Mout be elected as chairman of the republican city committee, and that the chairman of each ward committee be elected as the members of the city committee, from their respective wards.

There being no further business to come before the convention, the meeting adjourned.

EDWARD PLANS TO VISIT SCOTLAND

The King of England Will Visit His Scotch Kingdom in the Near Future.

London, March 27.—It is officially announced tonight that the king, accompanied by Queen Alexandra, will make a visit to Scotland in May. Their majesties will arrive at Dalkeith Palace, of the seat of the duke of Buccleuch, six miles from Edinburgh, May 11, and will remain until May 15. The vague suggestion of the Liverpool Post that King Edward is in poor health and suffers from depression does not find confirmation in well-informed quarters. The queen is frequently seen in public, and is apparently in excellent health and spirits. He left London this afternoon to visit the earl of Derby at Knowsley Park, Lancashire, and to see the grand national steeplechase at Liverpool today. He will start on Monday next for Lisbon, and thence will go on a yachting tour. Queen Alexandra is to leave the same day to spend three weeks at Copenhagen, which is hardly compatible with the suggestion that King Edward is in ill health.

DEWEY UTTERS PRAISE
FOR AMERICAN NAVY

Enlisted Men Could Fight to Victory if Every Officer on the Ship Fell in Battle.

Washington, March 27.—Admiral Dewey talked about the German navy and said it could not cope with the warships of the United States.

"Your maneuvers in southern waters with forty warships must have been an object lesson for Germany and England," was suggested to him. "Forty!" exclaimed the admiral. "There were just fifty-four vessels of all classes. There was no man who was more worried on account of the object lesson the United States afforded this winter than Emperor William. It is certainly realized that Germany could not make a successful fight with our navy."

"I have had ample opportunity for studying the German navy. The difference between that navy and the United States navy is that the men in the German navy do not possess self-reliance. They depend on the officers too much. Each man is not an intelligent, thinking being in the performance of his particular duties like the personnel of our navy."

"A warship is a ponderous machine shop and the Americans are trained so that each unit is an intelligent being, applying himself when in action under the general instruction of his superiors. If every officer on an American ship were killed the men could and would go on and fight to victory."

VIRGINIA SENATORS
HAVE A FIST FIGHT

Shakespearean Quotation Taken as insult and Retorted by a Blow—Shake Hands and Apologize.

Richmond, Va., March 27.—Judge William H. Mann, resenting what he believed to be a premeditated insult, struck Senator Julian Bryant of Richmond a stinging blow on the side of the head, and the senator would have fallen had he not been caught. Bryant charged Judge Mann with unfairness and quoted this line in Shakespeare: "I thought that all your wiles would end in feigned religious smooth-hypocrisy."

Judge Mann asked if Mr. Bryant intended to imply that he would purposely be unfair.

The Richmond senator, shaking his finger in Judge Mann's face, declared he meant all the lines implied, and was struck down as quickly as it was said. Later explanations and apologies were made and the two senators shook hands amid applause.

PRIMARY LAW
WAS LIMITED

Senate Passed the Assembly Measure with Decided Restrictions Attached.

(Special To The Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., March 27.—The senate, by a vote of 18 to 14, defeated the Merton primary election bill yesterday morning, and in the afternoon, after a debate lasting from 4 to 7 o'clock, killed another primary bill by the same author, and then passed the assembly bill to the same purpose, first amending it so as to make the primary principle apply only to the election of officers if approved at the next general election by the people.

Decided Victory
It was a victory for the conservative republicans, as the administration is decidedly opposed to the amended measure. It will be rejected in the assembly, which is controlled by the administration, and a conference committee of the two houses will then prepare a substitute, but it is feared today's action marks the doom of primary election legislation at this session.

Debate a Bitter One
The debate abounded in bitter personalities and accusations. Senator Whitehead led the anti-administration members and Senator Miller led the governor's forces in favor of the passage of a sweeping measure to provide for the nomination of all officers, local, legislative, state, congressional, and United States senators, by direct vote of the people. The measure which was finally approved provides for primary election nomination of county officers only.

FRENCH MONKS
TO BE BARRED

Carthusian Monks Must Leave France with the Other Societies.

Paris, March 27.—The chamber of deputies today completed the government's programme regarding the male religious orders which applied for authorization to remain in France by refusing the application of the Carthusian monks, who were separated from the other orders as forming a class apart, they being employed in manufacturing a cordial. Theirs is the wealthiest order in France. Abbe Lemire spoke today on behalf of the monks. The true reason that the order was driven from the country, said the speaker, was that it was feared that their money was used for political purposes. This was untrue. Premier Combes replied that the Carthusian monks lived under the same regime as the other orders that should be treated in the same way. They should not be favored because they were rich. He said they had conducted an active propaganda against the republic. The superior general of the Carthusian order signed a recent pamphlet urging all citizens not to pay their taxes and to boycott the republican officials. The chamber then, by a vote of 338 to 231, refused to discuss the application for authorization.

WONDERFUL TALK BY BIEDERWOLF

HIS SERMON THIS AFTERNOON WAS FULL OF INTEREST.

THEME FOR SUNDAY NEXT

He Will Speak to Men Only, at the Congregational Church—
Large Number Expected.

"The White Life" is the subject of a sermon which Rev. Biederwolf will preach Sunday afternoon. It will be for men only. The place of meeting will be the Congregational church, and it is confidently expected that that large auditorium will be unable to accommodate all who are present. When the address was given in Beloit, the Wilson opera house was used for that purpose. The attendance was without parallel. The meeting was memorable in every respect, and the masterly way in which the preacher handled the theme made the meeting one of the most notable of the entire series.

First announcements of the meeting were made last evening at the Congregational church, through the agency of tickets to the meeting. Every effort will be made to boom the meeting, and to make it the most remarkable of the entire list of meetings.

The Afternoon Meeting
A record breaking crowd filled the Baptist church at the afternoon meeting yesterday. The people are beginning to heed the call of the evangelist to hear those addresses if no others. This afternoon a large throng was again present, and was moved by Rev. Biederwolf's straightforward, earnest words.

For his text, Rev. Biederwolf took a verse from Psalms. His words follow:

This Afternoon's Address
Psalms X:2.—Thou hast set our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.

There are many secret sins, but today I speak of the sin of a bitter heart. There is bitterness toward God, and then there is that bitterness toward our fellow man; the unforgiving spirit; have you got it?

Friends, if you search the word you will be surprised to find out how much greater seems to be the emphasis placed upon love to our fellow men than upon love to God, and often in places where the vital issue is the salvation of a man's soul.

Paul said in Gal. 5: "We shall keep the whole law if we love our neighbor as ourselves." When a young man asked Jesus what was the first commandment, He said of course, it was to love God, but He said the and is no less but like unto it, "to love your neighbor;" and to the young man inquiring the way of life Jesus said: "Keep the commandments," and when he said, "Which?" what a Jesus say? He mentioned five commandments and did you ever notice what they are: "Thou shalt not kill, thou shalt not steal, thou shalt not commit adultery, thou shalt not bear false witness and honor thy father and mother." Not a word about himself or God practically telling the young man to fulfill his duty toward his fellowmen and he would be a saved man.

No Forgiveness
Of course the Master knew as we know that no man can do such a thing until he has first learned to love God, but He certainly appreciated this awful lack of loving one another, which characterizes the disposition of men of the world and alas so often of Christians too. Friends, it's a serious thing; you might as well have a God of wood or stone for all the good your present relationship to Him will do you if you have an unforgiving spirit within you and are not willing to get rid of it. There can be no place for you and there can be no forgiveness.

Let me tell you of a member of the church of Christ who for years had not spoken to her half sister because she was the child of a woman she hated for an offense of a most serious nature. She had been miserable all these years and one night came to the altar seeking peace; she seemed to be in great agony of soul and forgetting the presence of other people she cried, "O God, speak to me; O God, speak to me," the pastor said, "My sister, God is more willing than you are; there must be some cause for this great agony."

Felt Great Remorse
"There is," she said, "I hate a woman and I have hated her with such a hatred that it has mastered me; she does not live here, but her child does and is in this audience, and I have not spoken to her for years."

"Well," said the pastor, "God will never speak to you until you have let this thing go."
"Oh," she cried, "it would be a terrible injury, but I would let it go if I could."

"Let us tell God then that we are at least willing," and after he prayed she told God that she was willing to do, and asked him to speak to her and help her, and do you know what she did? He just came by his own loving spirit and cleansed her heart of all its blackness and its bitterness, and poured it full of beauty and sweetness of the forgiving Christ. And she rose to go to the young lady, but this one having heard it all was already by her side and after the kiss of reconciliation the women went at once to write a letter to the one she had formerly hated and there came into her life all the peace and beauty of a child of God.

An Appeal
Oh friend, today does it make you a better woman or a better daughter to cherish an unkind feeling toward any offending brother or sister? Do you lie down at night with a clearer conscience or rise in the morning with a sweeter peace and if such a disposition does not make you uncomfortable would it be the sensible thing to get rid of it? You have no right to cherish any feeling in your heart toward any one in this world that God had not cherished toward you.

TELEPHONE LINE WILL BE BUILT

Connection Between Janesville and Rockford Now Seems an Assured Fact.

Janesville is to have a telephone connection with Rockford, by an independent line. This is the purpose of a statement made by H. H. Clough, vice-president of the Home Telephone company in Rockford. He says that last week poles were ordered, and that this spring operations will begin with a view to extending the long distance service of the Rockford exchange throughout Winnebago county. Among other points to be embraced by these extensions is Beloit. The Rock county independent lines are already giving connection between this city and the Beloit independent exchange.

MANY DUCKS ARE AT KOSHKONONG

Some Hunters Are Also Showing Disregard for the Law, by Hunting.

Lake Koshkonong has been free of ice for several days past and the thousands of ducks on their way north are enjoying the rest offered them by the open water. People who have visited the lake during the last few days say that the canvas back have arrived in large numbers, and have started feeding preparatory to their flight to their breeding grounds in the far north.

Spring Shooting.
Although it is claimed by many that spring shooting should be tolerated in Wisconsin because it is in the states south of us. The fact is that there are thousands of birds at Koshkonong goes to show that at least this number of birds escaped north and will have a chance to breed and come back in the fall.

Breaking Law.
Quite a general complaint is being made that shooting is being carried on on all sides and that at Koshkonong very little regard is being paid to the laws. Some of the hunters are even bold enough to take their small boats and pursue the birds, out in the center of the lake. Several of the numerous deputy game wardens in the employ of the state might go to Koshkonong and put a stop to the illegal shooting. Many people have the idea that the legislature will pass a law giving them spring shooting and are taking a chance. The legislature has dallied over the law so long without coming to any conclusion that no matter which way the law is decided it will be too late for this year's shooting.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, March 27, 1863.—The Janesville Daily Monitor, after lying perfectly dormant during the cold winds and frosts of February and March begins to thaw out, and shows its head protruding from its winter hole. It talks again guardedly, it is true, for it fears the public disapprobation which compelled its silence, about arbitrary arrests, defending judges, constables and censuring the release of Lieut. Dustin. It ventures upon an approval of the "copper-head" badges worn by the partisans of its faith, and shows a general disposition to exhibit the whole length, its slimy, scaly body as soon as the dangers of spring elec-

WAR CRY OF THE VICTORIOUS
CITIZENS' TICKET.

CAUCUSES HELD LAST NIGHT

Ticket Picked by the Municipal League, is the Choice of the Voters.

Republican caucuses held last night were an endorsement of the citizens' ticket selected by the Municipal league. Everything passed off as desired by the league with the exception that in the Third ward forty-one of the voters cast their ballots for D. D. Bennett for school commissioner in place of H. J. Cunningham. Mr. Cunningham, however, received the majority of the votes and was declared the nominee.

Large Turn Out
There was a good turn out of voters but not as large as had been expected, the representative citizens of the city, however, appeared at the voting booths and deposited a ballot for the nomination of men who will have the city's interests at heart and see that the laws are carried out.

Delegates Chosen
The delegates to the city convention were the ones selected by the league and were favorable to A. O. Wilson for mayor and A. E. Badger for clerk.

A Vindication
The result so far as the caucuses were concerned was a complete vindication of the Municipal league cause. The delegates chosen were:

PEARL HUNTERS TO BEGIN SOON

Many Men Spend Their Summers at Work on the Mississippi
Clam Beds.

At about this time each year the clam fishers of the Mississippi river begin to swarm to the scene of their summer's labors. Among those who will spend the coming months with the throngs at Prairie du Chien who are engaged in pearl hunting is J. P. Albee of this city. He will leave for the scene of his labors in a week or two.

Mr. Albee has made an annual trip to Prairie du Chien for several years and has always met with good success, although he has not made any sensational finds, which now and then fall to the luck of a clam shell picker, such as that which was made by Tom Bowen of Evansville last year. Mr. Bowen found a pearl which brought him $1,200 in the first three bushels which he picked over. He had never tried pearl fishing before last year.

Slug-fishing, Mr. Albee says, would be a more exact term for the occupation of these hundreds at Prairie du Chien. Pearls are now and then found, but it is the slugs upon which the fishers rely to cover their expenses. The average yield is about an ounce of slugs to one thousand lbs. of shells. A man can pick over from 250 to 400 pounds of shells a day.

The necessary apparatus is simple. Thirty dollars, says Albee, will buy all that is needed. A flatboat, about four by twenty feet in size, is the first essential. An engine to propel the boat is an advantage against the current, but not a necessity, for fishing, hooks of telegraph wire, bent into crowfoot shape, are attached to three foot cords by gas pipe twelve to twenty feet in length. Each of the hooks has four prongs, and they are strung about four inches apart on the gas pipe.

One of the prongs is quite sure to come within reach of the clams as the flat boat drifts down stream with the hooks dragging behind. The greedy clam shuts his mouth tight upon the prong, and holds on until taken off by the fisher.

When there is low water, hose and rakes suffice to pull out the clams. Some of the fishermen simply wade in and pull out the mollusks with their hands.

When a sufficient quantity of the shells have been gathered they are dumped together into a tank about twenty inches square with an iron bottom and boiled for about 15 to 20 minutes, when the shell comes out approximately clean. The clams are used largely for pig and chicken feed. One Frenchman, Mr. Albee says, taught his horse to eat the clams.

EXCELLENT SHOW LAST EVENING

Dramatization of Hall Caine's "Christian" Well Received by an Enthusiastic Audience.

The dramatization of Hall Caine's "Christian" was presented at the Myers Grand last evening. The company was under the management of Lebler and Co., which fact alone should have indicated a performance of merit. In past years the Christian has several times appeared in this city, and comparison was more or less directly challenged. The best proof that the production was not disappointing, even when set against past bookings, was the vociferous applause which followed the curtain on the scene in Glory's rooms, and Janesville audiences are not in the habit of applauding too generously. It was a distinct triumph for both Clara Blandick as Glory, and Stanton Elliot as John Storm.

Elliot took the part of Storm very acceptably. He successfully trod the middle path between tameness and ranting, showing an equal appreciation of the possibilities and dangers of the role. As Glory, Miss Blandick was captivating. In her hands the parson's daughter—music hall star is a delightful creature, but petulant, spirited, yet possessed of a considerable degree of devotion for her lover, even when seemingly least in sympathy with him.

Of the rest of the company it is enough to say that they were equal to their parts—save one. The young man who took the character of Horatio Drake, a character hardly surpassed in its possibilities of fine acting by the two principal roles, was hopelessly unequal to the task. In person and carriage he was not so glaringly deficient, but his nervous mumbblings and mouthings belittled the part.

SHEDS NO LIGHT
ON THE MYSTERY
FAILS TO POINT OUT MURDERER

Only Thing Accomplished is to Place the Name of the Victim Before the Public as a Loving Father and Devoted Husband.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 27.—The inquest into the death of Edwin L.
Burdick has ended, and the mystery is as far from solution as ever. Justice Murphy has reserved his written opinion on the testimony. It is possible that he may issue warrants for the arrest of "John Doe" and "Jane Doe." If Judge Murphy sees fit to take such action the district attorney will be obliged to submit the whole case to the grand jury.

No Direct Evidence.
Aside from the failure of the authorities to secure evidence bearing directly upon the commission of the crime or to establish the identity of the murderer, there is a feeling of satisfaction that the name of Mr. Burdick has been lifted from the mire in which it was first dragged and his character shown in its true light.
The evidence brought out under the examination of witnesses by District Attorney Coatsworth has shown Burdick to have been a loving father, always willing to sacrifice his own happiness and pride for the sake of his children; that he was the victim of false friendship, broken pledges, and in face of it all a forgiving, indulgent husband.

Pennell Inquest.
The inquiry into the death of Arthur L. Pennell will begin before Justice Murphy next Monday, and an effort will be made to determine whether the Pennell automobile tragedy was accident or suicide, or suicide and murder. When that inquiry is out of the way the Burdick decision will be handed down, probably not before.

Among the witnesses to be subpoenaed to the Pennell inquest are Lizzie Romance, the servant; the two boys who saw Pennell's plunge into the quarry; Volk, the saloonkeeper at whose place Pennell had a drink a few minutes before his death; Wallace Thayer, to whom Pennell is supposed to have given $25,000 in trust for Mrs. Burdick; and many residents of Kensington district, where the horror occurred.

Attorney Protests.
It is learned that Former District Attorney Penney has entered a protest to Justice Murphy against merging the Burdick and Pennell inquests and handing down judgment on both cases at the same time. Mr. Penney was a former partner of Pennell, and since Pennell's death he has been acting as legal adviser for the Pennell family. It was because of this protest that Judge Murphy, in announcing that an official inquiry would be made into the Pennell tragedy, took particular pains to state that the Pen-nell inquest would be entirely independent of the Burdick case.

New Witnesses.
At the Burdick inquest three new witnesses appeared on the stand.
They were the Rev. L. M. Powers, pastor of the Church of the Messiah,
where the Burdick family and Mrs.
Hill were regular attendants, and Detectives Cornish and Coughlin, who were the first police officials to arrive at the Burdick home when the crime was discovered.

Mrs. Hill, Carol Burdick, and Maggie Murray, the Burdick cook, were recalled to straighten out, if possible, conflicting testimony given by them on the witness stand.

The report of City Chemist Hill was read by the district attorney. It stated that no poison was found in the cocktail bottle or in the stomach of the dead man, thus disposing of the theory that Burdick was poisoned, and also that there were no bloodstains on the golf stick.

...COMING ATTRACTIONS..

One of the most splendidly equipped companies of the season will present Hal Reid's great drama, "At Cripple Creek," which was the reigu-ing success of the popular-priced houses at the Myers Grand Opera House, Saturday, March 28th.
No play within recent years has been so cordially received. This melodrama of roughing it in the Coorado mountains presents unusual scenic possibilities and opportunities for fine acting, neither of which have been neglected by the management. The wealth of picturesque scenery abounds in that region has given the scene painter a wide scope, and he has taken good advantage of his opportunities, with the result that some novel and beautiful stage settings are shown.

The first act shows the interior of the "temple of David," the den of Martin Mason, an infamous scoundrel.
He is surrounded by a dare-devil gang and the so-hardened victims of his nefarious business, which is that of luring young girls from the East.

The rescue of Belle Gordon, Maggie
Mason and the little child, Tattoo, by the wretched but still spritlike woman, Dynamite Ann, with the aid of the manly Joe Mayfield and the full blooded Sioux Indian, Waketah, turnishes the climax to the first act.
Mason's attempt aided by a Mexican "bad man" Manuel Alvarez, to kill little Tattoo in the second act, the death is the third act, and the final act where justice is properly meted out, form some of the most moving incidents of a play that abounds in action.

"At Cripple Creek" has been provided with the strongest cast that was ever seen in melo-drama, some of the actors having gained reputation with noted stars of the American stage. The scenic equipment is upon a most elaborate scale, and no pains have been spared to make this one of the noteworthy productions of the season.

A Layman's Lenten Sermon.

Twenty seventh day of Lent St.
Mark XII 10 v—And have ye not read this scripture, The stone that the builders rejected is become the head of the corner.

How true this is. How much this refers to daily life of mankind.
This stone that the builders refused has become the corner stone. In this daily life of worry and trouble we see many forced into the background by the stress of circumstance who had they more push and vim to their actions might have reached places of responsibility, and trust many men lack that element of ambition in their make-up which gives to others a prominence that is not due them. These men plod along and if they do not become discouraged, they will reach the goal at last and be set upon a pinnacle from which the other has fallen.

Christ told his followers that the stone that the builders had seen fit to reject had been chosen as the corner stone for the building. Christ, the Master told us this truth and we cannot do but believe it and look with wonder at the results which are each day brought forth to confirm this statement. We see many men rise to prominence who have not the chance that others had and who would have been rejected by the builders in the beginning, but who have become corner stones in the buildings of the life and welfare of the whole community.
Each one can take a prominent place in the daily affairs of this life if he but try it and it remains with the individual to take the place in life he would have by his exertions.

PRESS COMMENTS
Marquette Eagle: Apparently the price of fuel this winter has had no beneficial effect on the price of the ladies spring hats.

Winnebago Local: After reading the movements and doings around the state capital, it is mighty hard to decide whether the legislature or the lobbies frame and enact the laws.

Madison Democrat: It is said that Yale has started a course of dancing. If this had been done earlier Brother Wilcox might have been saved much awkward side-stepping in the political grand right and left.

Milwaukee News: It is reported at Madison that the assembly is weakening in its support of the railway commission measure. Is it possible that the corporation have cast their baleful spell over the very elect?

Milwaukee Sentinel: It may be as well to remind Wisconsin attorneys that a place on the supreme bench is a high and honorable position, so high and honorable, in fact, that it is not sought after in the manner of political offices.

Chippewa Independent: The session of the Wisconsin legislature is now more than half finished. So far few laws have been enacted. The time has been chiefly devoted to fighting the governor and listening to paid attorneys' discussion of various corporation bills. The stalwart section of the republican party has the senate, and the people can look for but little in the way of reform.

Eau Claire Telegram: The South has troubles of her own w. the race problem and high waters to deal with and would probably be willing for Wisconsin to "go way back and sit down." Instead of offering suggestions as to how the negro should be dealt with.

Eau Claire Leader: Logging in northern Wisconsin is virtually over this season. It came to an end suddenly and unexpectedly. The mild weather set in on March 1st and continued until the last vestige of snow had disappeared. Loggers, however, were not found entirely unprepared.
They had ninety days of sleighing and they certainly made good use of it. All reports agree that it had been the best winter for lumbermen in several years. The quantity of raw material got out was enormous, and mills will have sufficient to run them until the next snow flies.

LUTHERANS TO RAISE MILLION

THE TICKET ENDORSED
The endorsement given the citizens ticket by the republican party as an organization speaks well for the city. The democratic party will be given the same opportunity, and there is no reason why the ticket should not enter the field endorsed by both parties.

If this is done the campaign will be practically a unit for good government. If the democratic party decide to run a party ticket, it will of course mean the league, the republican party, and all democrats who believe in business reform, arrayed against organized democracy.

That the ticket will have opposition must be expected, and its friends, and supporters must realize that the real work of the campaign has but just commenced.

Tickets, however good, never elect themselves, and reform movements even when of the most practical sort, require liberal and intelligent support.
The ticket nominated and now fairly before the people, stands for more than any ticket ever presented to the voters of Janesville for suffrage. It represents nothing in the way of partisanship, but everything in the way of citizenship. It is the product of righteous indignation, prompted by determination to sacrifice party pride and party allegiance, in the interest of wholesome government and business reform.

WE LEAD THE WORLD
"Statistic Abstract of the World" is the title of a publication under preparation by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics, the first section of which will be published in the forthcoming issue of the Monthly Summary of Commerce and Finance.
The work, when completed, will be as the title implies, an abstract or summarization of the national statistics of the world, including area, population, imports, exports, revenue, expenditures, debts, money in circulation, principal productions, the sources from which exports are drawn, and the countries to which exports are distributed.

The first section, which is to make its appearance in the next issue, of the Monthly Summary, shows the total imports and total exports of every country of the world for which statistical statements can be drawn, extending back to the earliest period for which data are available. It also includes statements of the area, population, revenue, expenditure, debt interest charge, currency and stocks of money of each of the principal countries of the world at the present time. These statements are reduced to United States standards of currency, weights and measurements, and are therefore easily available both for the actual information which they contain regarding the commerce of each country in regard to the import and export trade. Most of the tables showing imports and exports, extend back as far as 1870, and in many cases, much earlier; that of France beginning with the year 1815, the United Kingdom 1801, and the United States with the year 1790.
These tables show that the total international commerce of the world now aggregates about 21 billions of dollars, of which about 10 billions is exports and 11 billions imports. The fact that all exports eventually become imports and that all of the imports must have been originally exports suggest that the value of the world's imports should not materially differ from the figures of exports but the fact that the cost of transportation and other charges are, in many cases added to the value of the export when it is measured as an import explains, in part, at least, the fact that the aggregate figure of national imports exceed those of exports.
A study of these tables presenting the imports and exports of the principal countries show that the United States was in 1902, the largest exporter of domestic merchandise, while in 1870 her exports were exceeded by three countries—France, Germany, and the United Kingdom. In "favorable balance of trade" or excess of exports over imports, the United States also holds first rank among the nations, her excess of exports over imports being not only greater than that of any other country, but actually more, in 1901, than the total excess of exports over imports of all other countries whose exports exceeded imports.

THE AD VALOREM TAX
The state of Michigan is having its first experience with the ad valorem tax system. The railroads of that state have been working under the license law the same as Wisconsin. The state became demoralized under the late Pingree administration. The people were made to believe that the railroads were enemies of the state and that they were contributing about half the amount of taxes that they should pay.
The last legislature started out to remedy the evil, and they appear to have succeeded beyond their expectations. A law was passed, establishing the ad valorem system of taxation, but the roads claim that it is unconstitutional and refuse to pay it. The companies have just turned over to the state treasurer something over $1,000,000 on the basis of last year's earnings, and refuse to pay more unless ordered to do so by the courts.
In the meantime the state is discovering that railroads do many things as a matter of accommodation, that they are not obliged to do by law. The train service of the state has been revised, and many towns that have heretofore enjoyed an excellent service are now obliged to be content with one train a day.
There is a great deal of satisfaction in fighting a railroad. It requires but little courage and the field is so inviting that all sorts of people enter the contest and imagine that they are great warriors.
Wisconsin, like Michigan has a little coterie of men at the present time, who pose as statesmen, who are engaged in an attempt to win a little cheap glory in this kind of fight. These men are furnished with thunder and cheap ammunition by a leader of the Pingree stripe. This is reform with a large R. God save the state from reformers.

THE PRIMARY LAW
The senate, by a vote of eighteen to fourteen, killed what is known as the Merton Primary bill. Mr. Merton is a democratic member, and his bill was in substance the same as the one passed in the assembly early in the session.
The action of the senate will be commended by all thinking people. It does not mean that this body will not recognize the demand for caucus reform, but it does mean that no radical measure will be foisted upon the people.
The administration forces have attempted to make it appear that the principle business of the present session was to pass a primary law of a brand peculiar to their dictation. The assembly was ready to adjourn four weeks ago. It is well for the state that the senate has more regard for the welfare of the people. The action of the senate on the Merton bill indicates that the assembly bill will not have very clear sailing. It will doubtless be amended, and a referendum clause attached. This is as it should be. Give the people an opportunity to test the measure before forcing it upon them with all its radical changes. Wisconsin is not Kansas or Nebraska, and the state possesses a good deal more hard common sense than either Iowa or Michigan. It has never been a hotbed for reformers. The Primary law is a fact that the state has but little use for.

There is about as much demand for a primary law of peculiar brand, as there is for a railway tax commission. The people of Wisconsin have managed to swing along comfortably for a good many years, and if they have been imposed upon in any way, they are happily unconscious of the fact.
It must require a good deal of gall for a republican legislature to pass a law governing democratic primaries. There is great deal of sentiment and more nonsense about this kind of reform. The people are abundantly able to govern themselves and they have a right to the same opportunities that they have always enjoyed.

The citizens ticket has been legalized, by filing nomination papers for the candidates. This puts it properly before the people and makes it possible for men of all political creeds to support it.
There are no insects on the senate. That body recognizes the difference between a primary bill, and the primary bill.
Reform agitation may be amusing for the reformer and gratifying to a hypnotized following. But it is ruinous to prosperity.
The will of the people and not the will of the dictator appears to be supreme at Madison.
The senate is to be congratulated on possession level headed common sense.
Janesville is entitled to more representation on the county board.

Business reform means lower taxes and better government.
The state will have a primary law but it will not be a monstrosity.
The fifth ward will no longer control the council.
After the caucus the election.
The victory is only half won.
The state needs a rest.

LIVELY FRACAS AT CAR BARN

TWO EMPLOYEES HAVE A MISUNDERSTANDING

THE TROUBLE ENDS IN BLOWS

Electrician Warner Was Struck on the Head with a Poker, by a Fellow Workman.

There was a pleasant little fracas at the street car barns last evening, as the result of which George Warner is nursing a sore head, and Tom Quirk is taking refuge in hiding. The affair happened at about six o'clock. One version told is, Warner was seated in the car barn, when Quirk, the night watchman entered. Almost before Warner could say "Good evening," Quirk had brought down a poker on his head, stunning him for a moment. As soon as he recovered he reached for a weapon, but turned around to look in the chambers of a revolver. Quirk then disappeared. Telephoned to Murphy

While Warner was lying unconscious after the blow, Quirk went to the telephone and called up Superintendent Murphy of the car line. "I guess I've half killed Warner. You'd better come down," he said. When Murphy arrived, in company with Officer Fanning, Quirk was gone, and a careful search failed to reveal the direction in which he had fled, nor has he since appeared.

Quirk was somewhat under the influence of liquor, it is said. "Crazy drunk," is the verdict of one man who saw him. Others hold that he was but slightly intoxicated, and that he had a grudge against Warner which he wished to square. Warner, it is said, had made complaint of the frequency with which Quirk had been coming under the influence of liquor lately.

ORCHESTRA WAS MORE THAN GOOD

Kenosha Players at Last Night's Performance, Pleased the Audience.

To those theater-goers who have been patrons of the Myers Grand for the past years, the orchestra which last night presided in the musicians' chairs was a revelation. Liberal applause followed the first number, and the later selections were followed closely by nearly every person present. Each player proved himself experienced and thoroughly able to handle the most difficult music which a theater orchestra is called upon to play. Last night's orchestra consisted of eight pieces, two violins, clarinet, cornet, piano, trombone, drums, and double bass. Two of the musicians were from Beloit, Ave from Kenosha, and one, Oscar Bucklin, is of this city. The Kenosha musicians, W. H. Lake, Miss Gertrude Lake, G. W. Cronmiller, R. L. Genter, and A. Benkert, remained in the city, and will be here to play the "At Cripple Creek" music tomorrow night. It appears very probable from the attitude of the men who are in the city, that they will remain here permanently. They have found that there several openings in the factories of the city where they could obtain employment, and they believe that there is a good opening for a first class theater and dance orchestra. Long, of Beloit, who played the double bass last evening, has declined to come to Janesville in case the Kenosha musicians do.

BRACE GOES TO RACINE TONIGHT

Will Explain the Benefits of the Manual Training System to Pupils.

G. M. Brace went to Racine this afternoon, where he is this evening to address the school board of that city on the advantages of manual training. From that city he will go to Chicago where he will place orders for manual training apparatus for the Marquette, Alch., high school, to a total of about five thousand dollars. He may also be commissioned to place similar orders for the Racine school.

A. O. U. W. Meet: Olive Branch Lodge No. 36, A. O. U. W., will hold a meeting at East Side Odd Fellows' hall this evening.

Caucuses: Tonight the Democrats of the city will hold their caucuses at 7 o'clock this evening and name their candidates for the different ward offices and also their delegates to the city convention Saturday evening. NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

On and after April 1st, 1903, no contract will be made for business localities. The rate for this class of advertising will be ten cents per line for each and every issue of either Daily or Weekly. The Gazette, adopts this policy for two reasons: First, To improve the news columns of the paper. The first consideration of any newspaper, is the reader, and it is the duty of the advertiser to depend entirely upon its popularity with the reading public. Business localities frequently flood the newspaper with the last hour before the paper goes to press, and news is sacrificed to meet the demands of this class of business. Second, The Daily Gazette is rapidly extending its circulation throughout the county, giving the Janesville merchant an opportunity to talk to the farmer as well as the city customer, six days in the week. This means faster machinery, and increased expense in producing a paper as well as increased value for advertising. The Gazette has also adopted what is known as the space rate for display advertising, and prices have been placed within the reach of all advertisers. The paper has long enjoyed a liberal patronage from home merchants, and it is in position today to furnish better service than at any time in its history. GAZETTE PRINTING COMPANY.

ECHLIN'S DOG DID HAVE THE RABIES

STATE VETERINARIAN ROBERTS WARNING TO DOG OWNERS.

THERE IS GREAT FEAR FELT

A Spread of the Disease Should Be Prevented, by Killing Suspected Animals.

State Veterinarian E. D. Roberts sent word this morning that Dr. Russell, state bacteriologist, at Madison, to whom the head of Joseph Echlin's dog was sent for examination some time ago, that the dog was undoubtedly suffering from a severe attack of rabies. Dr. Russell made a careful examination of the dog's brain and states that there is no question but that the dog was affected with rabies. The brain cells show that the dog was suffering from the disease and that all dogs bitten by him will sooner or later develop symptoms of the dreaded malady. At the time the dog was stricken with the disease he made a circuit of the First ward and while he was being pursued with the idea of ending his career, is known to have bitten several dogs, and they will surely come down with the disease. Roberts Anxious

Dr. Roberts is anxious to keep the disease from spreading in this city and asks that all dogs that were known to have been bitten by Echlin's dog at this time be secured by their owners and confined so there is no possibility of their biting any person or other dogs. The best way for people to do who know their dogs were bitten is to call on the authorities and have the dogs put out of the way. Since Mr. Echlin's dog created the trouble two dogs that are known to have been bitten by him have been killed by the officers, one of them belonging to Orville Church, and the other to Frank Andrews. The Church dog did not get a chance to bite any one but the Andrews dog bit Ed. Howland's boy. It is not known that Andrews' dog was bitten by the Echlin dog, but as a precaution he was killed by Officer Brown.

Special Request Dr. Roberts makes a special request that any one having a dog that was known to have been bitten by the Echlin dog see that there is no possibility of his biting anyone or have him put out of the way before the disease develops. Too much care cannot be taken in this matter as the disease is a dangerous one and no end of trouble is likely to result if the animals get loose and spread the disease about the country. An epidemic of this kind has been started in other parts of the state this same way and the state veterinarian is especially anxious that Janesville should not be affected the same way.

THE NINTH ANNUAL CONTEST TONIGHT

Pupils Will Compete in Declamation, Oration, and Extemporaneous Speaking.

This evening the ninth annual rhetorical medal contest of the high school will be held at the high school building. The speaking will begin at 7:30 o'clock. All of the declamations, orations, and the time of the extemporaneous speeches have been shortened and it is believed that the program will be less tedious than such contests sometimes are. The winners of the first places in the declamatory contest will go on April 10th to the league contest at Evansville, and if successful there, will then speak on the 24th at the district contest at Whitewater. The next step is to the state contest at Madison in May. An instructor from the school of oratory at Madison, recommended by Prof. Frankenhauer, Prof. A. A. Rowell of Beloit, and another member of the Beloit faculty will be the judges of the contest.

The contestants were two members of the "Christian company" who were taking their daily recreation. Garbed in padded jerseys, iron masks and heavy gloves they handled their foils in a scientific fashion. The men were James who takes the part of Brother Paul and Holdingsworth, who enacts the role of Lord Storm. COMMENCEMENT PLAYS PLANNED

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES ARE TO GIVE THREE.

WILL OCCUPY ONE EVENING

Casts Have Not Yet Been Decided—Mrs. Day Has Charge of the Rehearsals.

The senior class of the high school will give three plays instead of one. This decision, which was last evening made official by a vote of the class, was brought about by the large number of members of the class who desire to test their histrionic ability. A single play would have brought a smaller number of the would-be thespians into the class. Committee in Charge

Nearly two months ago a committee was selected by the class to look into the question of desirable vehicles with which to display the talent of its stars. That committee has been active in its efforts, singly and in consultation with Mrs. Day, who is to train the class members who participate in the plays. The committee consists of Thomas McClerman, Will Ryan, Elizabeth McKey, Josephine Fenton and Harold Hall.

To Give Three Plays This committee made its final report to the class last evening, recommending that the three plays which Mrs. Day had selected be approved. The report was accepted. Two of the plays, "Cape Mall" and "Bangs' farce," "The Bicyclers," will be preceded by a curtain raiser entitled, "Journeys End" in "Lovers' Meeting." The time occupied by the three will not be longer than the average three-act drama. An entire evening will be given up to their production according to their present plans.

Cast Not Decided For some time past Mrs. Day has been laboring to determine the proper allotment of the parts, but no cast is completely decided as yet. Several possible arrangements have been outlined, and are now being worked upon.

POSTAL CLIQUE WELL ORGANIZED

GROW RICH ON SMALL SALARY

Unscrupulous Employees of the Government Lay Up Large Fortunes During the Life of the Conspiracy, Which Began in Cleveland's Time.

Washington, March 27.—Half a dozen trained postoffice inspectors, including practically all of the force which successfully exposed the frauds in the Cuban service, are now busily at work endeavoring to trace the ramifications of the conspiracy, the existence of which in the department here is admitted.

The operations of the postoffice service cover such a vast extent of territory, the amount of supplies purchased and distributed is so vast, and the number of employees is so great that it will take the postoffice detectives months to develop the details. They have gone far enough to show, however, that the ring has existed for years and that certain unscrupulous officials have grown rich on small salaries.

Control Congressmen.
Quite the most surprising feature of the whole thing is the extraordinary political machine which has been built up in the department. This machine was neither Democratic nor Republican. It had its origin during the administration of Grover Cleveland, was perpetuated during the administration of William McKinley, and was found in a flourishing condition in the second year of the term of Theodore Roosevelt. The policy of this machine was a shrewd one. Expert manipulators saw to it that every congressman and senator was put under special obligations in person to the heads of the various departments in which the peculations went on most shamelessly.

Attain Great Power.
Of late it became a common practice for members of congress to ignore the postmaster general entirely and go direct for personal favors involving the expenditure of public money to the superintendent of free delivery and the superintendent of the salary and allowance division. The result was that Mr. Machen and Mr. Beavers, the two superintendents in question, apparently were more powerful than any of their superiors in office. One postmaster general after another attempted to assert his authority, but found when it was too late that he himself had become involved in the meshes of a network of personal and political obligations which prevented all radical action.

Maintain Machine.
It is charged that Supts. Machen and Beavers were guilty of corrupt practices or that they knowingly permitted stealing or unlawful collusion between subordinates and contractors.

It is true, however, that they had built up practically independent departments and successfully resisted any attempt to investigate or supervise the operations of their divisions. They frequently claimed that certain contracts were let at the direct dictation of high government officials and senators and members of the house whose names were household words. Almost all of those claims were mere bluffs, engineered to maintain the extraordinary machine inside the post-office department.

Attack Their Enemies.
How great the bluff was is shown by the fact that after the postoffice inspectors began to investigate the salary and allowance division the superintendent wrote out his resignation within twenty-four hours after he discovered his office was under the scrutiny of trained detectives.

The recent exposure of blackmailing methods in the office of the assistant attorney general for the post-office department convinced Postmaster General Payne and President Roosevelt that it would be a scandal to avoid a searching investigation, especially in view of the fact that some of the men who have been under suspicion have been openly endeavoring to secure the removal of Assistant Postmasters General Wynne and Bristow, the two men of all others upon whom the honesty and thoroughness of the investigation now rests, owing to the absence of the Postmaster General from the city.

MAN DIES IN BURNING HOUSE

Residence of Ezra Stevens at Dudley, Ia., Is Destroyed.

Albia, Ia., March 27.—One person was burned to death and six injured in a fire in the residence of Ezra Stevens at Dudley. Stevens' father-in-law, Isaac Speed, was unable to escape and was found dead later. The six other members of the family escaped in their night clothes by jumping. The house was destroyed.

Oppose Canal Treaty.

Washington, March 27.—Disquieting reports have reached Washington concerning the Panama canal treaty in the Colombian congress. It is learned beyond a doubt that the two last ministers from Colombia to the United States, Dr. Concha and Dr. Silva, are now in Bogota laying plans to defeat the treaty.

Telegraph to Alaska.

Washington, March 27.—Gen. Greeley, chief signal officer, has received a dispatch from the officer in charge of the telegraph lines in Alaska saying that the posts of St. Michael and Fort Egbert will be connected with the United States by wire in May.

GERMANY FEARS SOCIALISTS

Reformers Are Likely to Control in the Next Reichstag.

Berlin, March 27.—Not in years has the interest in an approaching election for the reichstag been so keen as now. The general sentiment is that there will be a material increase in the Socialist representation—possibly a majority. Should the latter occur the reichstag will be immediately dissolved, which will bring about a peculiar condition of affairs. So active have the Socialists become that the other parties have reached a compromise and there are really but two parties, Socialists and non-Socialists. The cry of one side is "Bread usury," and the cry of the other is "Down with the revolutionary Socialists."

BARS W. S. BOWEN AS CONSUL

Naval Court Prevents Appointee From Securing His Office.

Washington, March 27.—Guayaquil is acquiring a bad reputation as a consular post. First came the death of the artist, Thomas Nast; then Mr. Sawyer went to the city and died because of the yellow fever epidemic, leaving a vacancy, and now Dr. William Shaw Bowen cannot take the consular post though nominated and confirmed by the senate. It is said that an old naval court-martial record has been derived to his detriment, causing the withdrawal of his backers, the Rhode Island senators, and the consequent failure of the state department to issue his commission.

INSISTS ON CLAIM BEING PAID

Salvadoro Must Settle With an American Corporation.

Washington, March 27.—The state department is insisting on the Salvadoran government liquidating a claim of $500,000 due an American corporation in the El Triunfo case, as decreed by the court of arbitration to which it was referred. The Salvadoran government was given an ample opportunity to show why the money should not be paid and met this opportunity by urging a reopening of the case.

Recovers Damages.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 27.—A superior court jury decided that the loss of her scalp by Josephine Stephens while she was employed in the Tacima laundry was worth $7,500. Miss Stephens worked at a washing machine and her hair wound about the shaft of the machine.

White Slave Traffic.

St. Louis, Mo., March 27.—A man closely connected with the work of the grand jury said: "White slave traffic is a most common thing in St. Louis, and it is the intention of the grand jury to indict all who have engaged in it."
